Maddy was chosen by Nevaeh to head a very special mission. Her mission was to teach, so she became the youngest head teacher in the history of England. She taught children with learning disabilities the way they learn, not how most schools forced them to learn.

After her success in England, Maddy decided to start a school in Somalia, where the children needed her more, and where her skills and patience would really be tested.

WOMEN

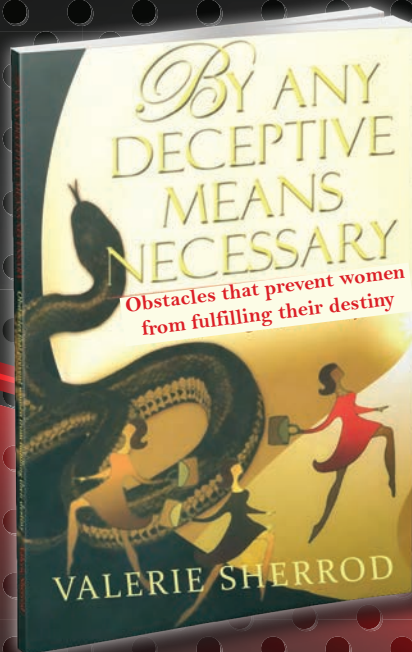

BOOKS

AUTHOR

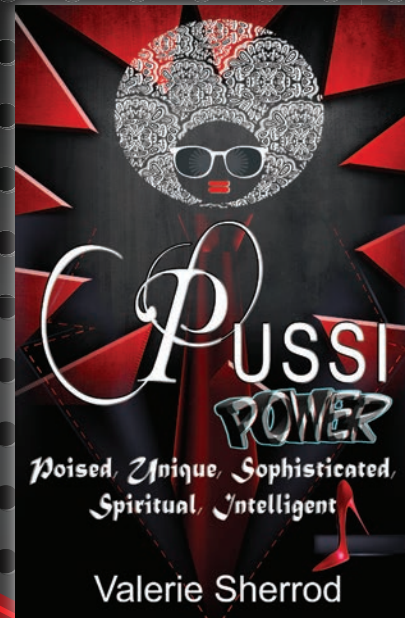

Valerie Sherrod

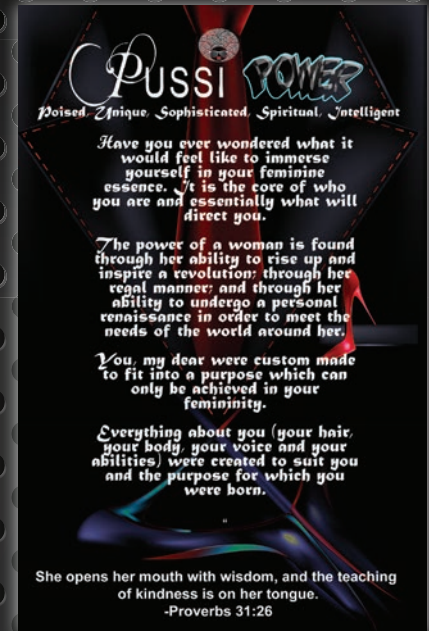

Women get to redefine where to start the revolution, when to step onto the world stage, and we get to exert our special feminine power whenever we deem necessary.

By Any Deceptive Means Necessary was written to show women the obstacles which present themselves in the form of deception, that have made it seem almost impossible for them to excel. When deception and the Deceiver are exposed, women will begin to fulfill their God-given purpose that has been creatively designed for her.

My purpose for writing this book is to express the powerful feelings and insight that come with being a feminine woman. I want to ensure that each woman recognizes her self-worth, embraces her identity, and lives her truth as it is. As you realize your full potential as a woman, you will become unstoppable.
